Dear Sir,

REF: ACQUISITION OF SWISSPORT INTERNATIONAL BY THE CHINESE HNA GROUP.

We would like to clarify on the news appearing in various newspapers in relation to the captioned topic.

On 30th July 2015 PAI Partners SAS (“PAI Partners”) agreed to the sale of Swissport Group (“Swissport”) to the Chinese HNA Group Co. Ltd. (“HNA Group”). The transaction was unanimously approved by the Board of Directors of both, the HNA Group and PAI Partners, and is expected to close by the end of this year, subject to regulatory approval by the relevant authorities.

Swissport, the world’s largest ground and cargo handling company, will remain as a standalone business within the HNA Group, complementing the conglomerate’s existing core activities including aviation, airport management, logistics and tourism.

Please be assured that Swissport customers can continue to rely on the same high quality service levels going forward. The Swissport management team is very much looking forward to working with the HNA Group and to continue strengthening the Swissport network around the globe.

As you may be aware, Swissport International own 51% stake in Swissport Tanzania PLC while the remaining stake is traded at the Dar es Salaam Stock Exchange and as such the transaction is not going to affect the company’s ownership structure.

At the moment, the Fair Competition Commission in Tanzania is investigating reports on the acquisition of Swissport International by China HNA Group and claims that the move will not have material effect on the market and has issued a public notice to that effect.

We will be happy to clarify further should you have any specific question.

Yours Sincerely,

SWISSPORT TANZANIA PLC
