Appointment of Non- Executive Director

The Board of Vodacom Tanzania Plc is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Boitumelo Karabo Motlana effective 1st August 2026 as non-executive director, filling the vacancy created by Nkateko Nyoka who resigned.

Mr Motlana is an accomplished Regulatory Affairs and Public Policy professional with over 25 years of experience in the ICT sector, spanning telecommunications, internet services, cloud computing, media, and broadcasting. Currently he serves as Director and Consultant at Pioneer Street Technologies, providing strategic advisory services on public policy, regulatory affairs, and stakeholder engagement, with a strong track record of influencing policy outcomes and navigating complex regulatory environments.

His extensive career includes senior leadership positions such as Head of Public Policy for Sub-Saharan Africa at Amazon Web Services (AWS), where he led regional policy and regulatory engagement to support cloud infrastructure growth and digital transformation. He also served as Stakeholder Relations and Public Policy Executive at Oceana Group and worked as an independent ICT and regulatory consultant, advising clients on spectrum licensing, broadcasting regulation, and regulatory strategy. Previously, as Chief Executive Officer of ICASA, South Africa's communications regulator, Boitumelo led significant organisational reforms, including management restructuring, procurement transformation, job grading consolidation, workforce development initiatives, and the implementation of a Treasury-mandated performance management system.

Mr Motlana holds a Bachelor of Laws from the University of Zimbabwe, and a Bachelor of Arts in Politics and African Government from the University of the Witwatersrand.

The Board congratulates Mr Motlana on his appointment and takes this opportunity to thank Mr Nyoka for his significant contributions.

By order of the Board.
